

B LEEDSBID

Newsletter - April 2018 - Issue 21

Leeds International Festival is back for its second year, with an unforgettable fortnight of events to excite, entertain and inspire.

The eclectic programme boasts an array of original performances, world firsts, premieres and debates with big names from across the worlds of music, technology, moving image and fashion, popping up in venues across the city.

Programme

The Rangers are now on Twitter! See what they're getting up to and what hotspots are being looked at on a day to day basis.

Follow @LeedsBIDRangers or click the button below to find them.

Keep up to date with the Rangers

New Sweatworking dates have been added including the introduction of morning sessions on Thursdays.

If you work for a levy paying business, secure your free space quickly as tickets are popular in demand.

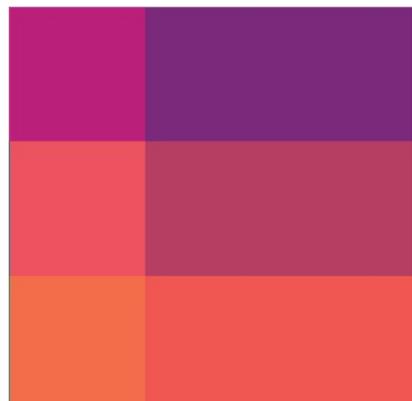

Are you unsure whether your business is a levy payer? Contact joe.lawson@leedsbid.co.uk

Book now

Is society being designed for humans or machines?

That's the question that's going to be explored in this one-off special

Inner-city electronic will be a celebration of electronic music and culture, curated by Ralph Lawson and taking place across a selection of the most iconic and innovative Bettakultcha event as part of the Leeds International Festival.

Learn more

Leeds Boost provides quality digital skills training guides that are relevant to you, that aim to empower you and your people to reach your goals.

With a uniquely practical and straightforward approach, you can begin applying your new skills right away.

Available to all LeedsBID levy paying businesses, get in touch to see how they can help.

Get in touch

Connectivity is critical to the modern business. From running e-commerce platforms and delivering online services, communicating with clients and colleagues, to using cloud-based apps to manage operations, the internet underpins most core business functions.

event spaces in Leeds

Read more

The Welcome Ambassadors have personally greeted and helped over 30,000 people in Leeds and have carried out over 3000 business visits since the start of 2018.

Learn more

Just 11 weeks away, the Leeds 10K Clarion Corporate Challenge is a huge event in this year's running calendar. What better way to take on the challenge than with your friends and colleagues?

The popular contest, which has been sponsored by Clarion since

On World Telecommunication and Information Day, hear the latest thinking from a panel of experts in a FREE breakfast seminar, which highlights the importance of harnessing digital connectivity in office design and how to achieve it.

When - Thursday 17 May 2018 -
08:30 - 10:00

Where - Lambert's Yard, 162-163
Lower Briggate, LS1 6LY

Register your interest

2007 is a major factor of the already well established Leeds 10K. Many companies who take part in the challenge really enjoy the competition element and many just run for fun or to inject some camaraderie in the workplace. New to the block, the largest team so far this year is from Charlton Morris who have a huge team of 49 runners taking part for a variety of different reasons.

Click here to see their reasons for running.

Click here to enter the Leeds 10K Clarion Corporate Challenge

Opera North is delighted to announce that it is seeking planning permission for an ambitious redevelopment project which will create a world-class centre for the arts in the heart of the city.

This informal, drop-in event will offer an opportunity to view some of the proposed architectural changes and to speak to Opera North staff about the plans.

Thursday 26 April, 5.30pm – 7.30pm
Howard Assembly Room

Read more

Copyright © 2018 Leeds BID Limited, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is: enquiry@leedsbid.co.uk

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.